A Designated World Natural Heritage Site

Welcome to Yakushima

This booklet contains a compilation of etiquette and rules to be observed by visitors when climbing the mountains of Yakushima, a World Natural Heritage Site. Yakushima was the first place in Japan to be included in the World Natural Heritage list. It was designated as a World Natural Heritage Site in December 1993.

We hope you will cooperate by following the etiquette and rules for climbing Yakushima to ensure that this spectacular natural environment will be protected for many years to come as a shared treasure of the entire human race.

All visitors to Yakushima are expected to act in a manner appropriate for World Natural Heritage Sites.

"This is an island that has moved the spirits of people for centuries; an island whose people suffered and struggled to preserve and utilize its forests throughout the Edo period. And today, the very existence of Yakushima, a place spared the onrushing tide of material civilization, is a revelation to humanity, a global theme in essence." (From the Yakushima Charter)

1 Climbing Etiquette and Rules

◇ Treat all animals and plants with care ◇

A large amount of wildlife and plant life indigenous to the island inhabit and grow on Yakushima.

Every plant and every insect helps maintain the abundant ecosystem of Yakushima, as well as its beautiful natural scenery. The unauthorized capture of any wildlife, as well as seizure of damage to any plants, is strictly prohibited.

◇ Take your garbage with you ◇

Be conscious of reducing your waste to a minimum, and make sure you take home any waste you produce on the mountain. Do not forget to bring your own garbage bags.

◇ Do not contaminate the mountain water ◇

Using locations other than the toilets for restroom use and washing dishes in waterways will contaminate the mountain water. Make sure you have a portable toilet and paper for wiping soiled dishes before heading into the hills.

◇ Do not light bonfires ◇

Bonfires can cause forest fires. You must not light bonfires under any circumstances.

◇ Do not bring animals to the mountains ◇ (with the exception of service dogs such as guide dogs and hearing dogs)

Failure to observe this may expose the valuable ecosystem to infections, contagious diseases, or other harmful elements. Bringing pets with you may also inconvenience other climbers, so avoid this at all costs.

◇ Do not feed the monkeys, deer, or other wild animals ◇

Banned by the Yakushima Town Ordinance on the Prohibition of Feeding Monkeys. Violations may result in a fine of up to JPY 50,000.

◇ Give priority to ascending climbers on mountain trails ◇

As a rule, you must give precedence to ascending climbers and give them the right of way. However, it is necessary to use your judgment in accordance with the location and conditions.

◇ Do not cause congestion ◇

Pay attention to the people in front of and behind you. Let groups that are faster than you go ahead to prevent congestion.

◇ Do not step on moss growing on rocks or fallen trees ◇

In order to protect the scenery and prevent devastation to ecological zones with large amounts of moss such as marshes and bogs, be careful to avoid stepping off mountain trails.

◇ Use poles with rubber caps ◇ (except when snow has accumulated)

Make sure you put rubber caps to the ends of trekking poles to prevent damage to mountain trails and to protect the plants.

◇ Do not make loud noises ◇

Listening to the radio or music or making other such sounds may annoy other people and must be avoided.

Bear bells are not required for mountain climbing on Yakushima.

◇ Carefully consider the places where you eat ◇

When stopping to eat, avoid areas that are expected to be crowded as well as scenic photography spots. Give careful consideration to the surrounding nature when choosing where to eat.

◇ Treat all shrines and other sacred places with due respect ◇

The mountains of Yakushima represent places of religious faith, and small shrines are located near the peaks of mountains. Do not forget that you are a guest in these places.

◇ Turn off your engine when parked ◇

To reduce your impact on the environment, do not leave your vehicle's engine running for long periods of time at trail entrances, car parks, etc. Show consideration to others when parking so that they are not inconvenienced.

◆ Request to Use Designated Toilets ◆ Use Portable Toilets

- All excretive bodily functions are to be carried out in designated toilets or with the use of portable toilets without fail.
- You are advised to utilize a restroom prior to commencing your climb.
- Maintaining toilets on the mountains is an extremely difficult task. Do not throw any clothing, sanitary products, plastic bags, or anything else that cannot be dissolved in water into toilets under any circumstances. Doing so will clog the toilet and make the facility unhygienic. Use toilet paper or water-soluble tissue.
- Having a portable toilet with you will prove useful if you suddenly feel unwell or in times of emergency. It will allow you to perform your bodily functions anywhere without contaminating the environment. This is important especially for those going on long treks or climbing Mt. Miyanoura.
- Portable toilets can be purchased from mountain climbing equipment stores, tourist information centers, souvenir shops, and other such places.
- Used portable toilets may be discarded in the collection boxes located in front of the car park of the Yakusugi Museum and trail entrances. Do not dispose of anything other than used portable toilets in the collection boxes under any circumstances.
- People who plan to stay in a shelter hut must check the locations of the toilets in advance as it is difficult and dangerous to find them at night.
- Toilets are located at the following areas on the mountains of Yakushima. (See the map on pp. 21-22)

2 Precautions When Climbing

◆ Climber registration forms let us know where you are ◆

Climbers must submit climber registration forms without fail. (Submission via a mountaineering app is also possible.)

Submitting climber registration forms enables searches to run smoothly and increases the chances of you being discovered if you run into difficulties.

Plan your climb in alignment with your own physical condition, and if amendments need to be made owing to issues with your strength, the time, or the weather, resolve to stop and turn back.

Contact your place of accommodation if you are likely to return from the mountain later than scheduled.

Organizations for Obtaining and Submitting Climber Registration Forms

Organization	Address	Telephone Number
Yakushima Tourism Association (Yakushima Town General Center)	187-1 Anbo, Yakushima-cho	☎0997-46-2333
Yakushima Police Station	304-42 Anbo, Yakushima-cho	☎0997-46-2110
Yakushima Town Hall	849-20 Kosedo, Yakushima-cho	☎0997-43-5900
Other	The island's police boxes/stations, airport, ports, tourist information centers, ships, Yakushima World Heritage Conservation Center, Yakushima Environmental and Cultural Village Center, Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance, Arakawa Trail Entrance, Shiratani Unsuikyo Ravine Entrance

*The registration form can also be downloaded from the websites of the above organizations.

◆ Check out the mountain trails in advance ◆

Mountain trails may sometimes be in disrepair or impassable. Be prepared by checking out the conditions thoroughly before you proceed.
A round trip between the Arakawa Trail Entrance and Jomon-sugi Cedar, and between the Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance and Mt. Miyanoura will take about 9 to 10 hours.

The Jomon-sugi Trail gets extremely crowded during the Golden Week holidays in May and during summer. We suggest avoiding the most crowded dates. See here for the Jomon-sugi Cedar Best Trekking Day Calendar.

■ Inquiries on mountain trails

Yakushima Tourism Association (Yakushima Town General Center)
Yakushima Ranger Office for Nature Conservation of the Ministry of the Environment

☎0997-46-2333
☎0997-46-2992

◆ Closure of roads leading to mountain trail entrances ◆

Roads leading to mountain trail entrances (Arakawa Trail Entrance, Yakusugi Land Entrance, Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance and Shiratani Unsuikyo Ravine Entrance) are closed during abnormal weather conditions (sustained rainfall of 220mm or more for 24 hours, snow accumulation, freezing conditions, etc.). Make sure you check out all road restrictions and the weather condition thoroughly before beginning your climb.

*Kagoshima Prefecture Road Restriction Information

<https://www2.pref.kagoshima.jp/dourokisei/Index#>

◆ Be fully equipped ◆

Mountain weather can change abruptly even if it seems fine, so bringing foul-weather gear for mountain climbing is a must. Don't forget to bring emergency cold-weather clothing (temperatures drop to between -10°C and -15°C in winter) and a tent or bivouac, even when on day trips.

You also need to bring food (chocolates, candies, etc.), a head lamp, a map, a compass, a whistle, and a cellphone (transceiver). Make sure your clothing includes long sleeves, long pants (short pants may result in injuries), and mountaineering boots (normal shoes may slip, and boots with spikes will damage tree roots).

◆ Make sure you don't get lost ◆

Climbing down along the water stream is extremely dangerous because there are many waterfalls ahead. Do not go down the valley under any circumstances.

Getting lost on the trails depletes physical strength, so avoid moving around unnecessarily. Take a whistle and cellphone with you so you can call for help.

Most people go missing because they lose their way on the trails (do not enter areas off the mountain trail or walking paths)

Some cellphones can be used in some areas such as the peaks of Mt. Miyanoura, Mt. Nagata, and other major mountains, places where you can see Tanegashima Island, and the trail to the Jomon-sugi Cedar (Okabu Trail). (P14)

*Information on Yakushima mountains and climber registration forms

(Kagoshima Prefecture Police website)

<https://www.pref.kagoshima.jp/ja10/police/shinsei/sonota/yousiki-rinku.html>

All costs incurred in conducting search and rescue operations are to be borne by the climbers involved.

◆ Do not leave the mountain trails ◆

There is a high risk of getting into difficulties if you leave the mountain trails.

Leaving the trails may also result in you stepping on sensitive flora, which will have an extremely adverse effect on the ecosystem of the forest.

Also note that the mountain trail has risks that include falling rocks or branches, or tripping and sliding. Steps and bridges can be particularly slippery when wet or covered with fallen leaves. Please pay close attention to your safety.

◆ Stay calm and act accordingly if you need help in the case of an accident ◆

If you need help while climbing after suddenly falling ill or being involved in an accident, seek the assistance of other people in the area and act accordingly. Call an ambulance if you are unable to identify the reason for falling ill. Make sure somebody takes notes on the condition of the person requiring assistance, so that they can be given to the paramedics when they arrive. Seek the help of a guide with a transceiver or radio if you are having trouble getting reception with your cellphone on the mountains.

● Calling for help

Kumage Area Fire Department

•South Yakushima Fire Station 0997-47-2125

•North Yakushima Fire Station 0997-42-0119

*Calling 119 (area code not needed) from your cellphone will connect you to the relevant fire department. The call will be transferred to the nearest outstation, so when it is answered, 1) state that you are calling from a cellphone; and 2) do not hang up if there is no answer as the call is probably being transferred.

When calling for help, state:

- 1 the place and time of the accident;
- 2 the name, age, gender, weight, and blood type (if necessary) of the injured party; and
- 3 the state of the injury.

Report any changes in condition until the paramedics arrive and take over.

◇ Staying overnight in shelter huts ◇

Shelters huts are used for accommodation purposes on the mountains.

There are six shelter huts in total, and all of them can be used free of charge. Note, however, that they do not have cooking facilities, electricity, bedclothes or telephones as they are unmanned. With the exception of the winter period, the shelters tend to get very crowded during the long holiday period in May and during the summer vacation period. These facilities are meant to be shelter huts for emergencies, so try to leave space for others so that as many people as possible can use them.

A round trip between the Arakawa Trail Entrance and Jomon-sugi Cedar, and between the Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance and Mt. Miyanoura will take 9 to 10 hours, and is possible on a day trip.

For reference: Calendar of the Best Days for Climbing to the Jomon-sugi Cedar (Ministry of the Environment website)

Advance notice for using shelter huts (Yakushima Mountain Environmental Management Council website)

(<http://yakushima-tozan.com/page-1683/>)

*This does not constitute a reservation.

🏠 Shelter Huts (See the map on pp. 21-22)

Name	Capacity	Structure	Altitude (m)
Shiratani Hut	40	Reinforced concrete	825
Takatsuka Hut	20	Steel	1,330
Shin-Takatsuka Hut	40	Timber	1,460
Shikanosawa Hut	20	Stone	1,550
Yodogawa Hut	40	Timber	1,380
Ishizuka Hut	14	Concrete blocks	1,600

Take all uneaten food and litter home with you.

◇ Take particular care when climbing during winter ◇

There can be snow on the mountains of Yakushima in winter.

Mountain-climbing is more dangerous in winter than from spring to autumn.

When there is snow on the ground (December to February), think twice about climbing. If you do climb, then reconsider your plans if any of the following apply:

- ⚠️ The weather is forecast to worsen (cold snap, cold front moving in, etc.)
- ⚠️ This will be your first time on this route, or you plan to take an unfamiliar route
- ⚠️ You do not have adequate winter gear or emergency equipment
- ⚠️ You do not have the physical strength or condition for winter mountains
- ⚠️ You are climbing alone

3 Points to Note at the Arakawa Trail Entrance

◇ Depart by 7:00 AM for the climb to the Jomon-sugi Cedar ◇

A round trip between the Arakawa Trail Entrance and Jomon-sugi Cedar will take 9 to 10 hours. Depart around 5:00 AM to 7:00 AM at the latest.

Stop and return earlier if you are likely to miss the homeward bus.

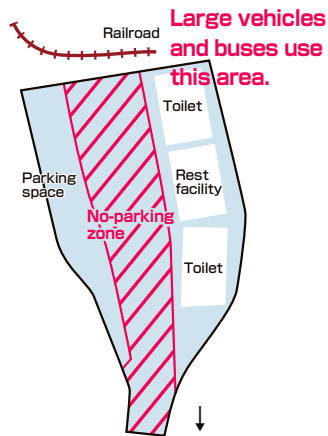

◇ No public telephones available ◇

There are no public telephones at the entrances to mountain trails. However, some cellphones can get reception, depending on the mobile carrier. Check this in advance on your operator's website.

◇ Entry of vehicles to the Arakawa Trail Entrance is restricted ◇

Note that entry to private vehicles is restricted from March 1 to November 30.

Even outside of the period of restriction, parking in the no-parking zone is strictly prohibited as it will block the passage of large vehicles.

You can park in an area about 400m down the road

4 Parking at Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance

Request regarding parking manners at Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance:

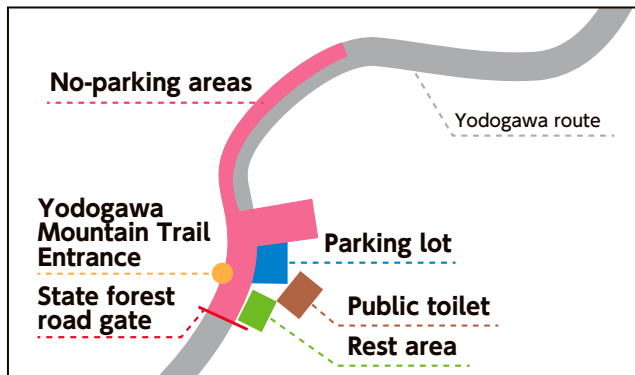

People sometimes park on the streets near the Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance parking lot, but this hinders the passage of emergency vehicles and buses.

When you come to the Mountain Trail Entrance by car, we kindly ask you to park in the designated parking area whenever possible.

If the parking lot is full and you must park outside the parking lot, please avoid parking in areas that may obstruct the passage of other vehicles, such as curves, and try to park in spots that offer sufficient space.

Please refrain from parking outside the parking lot, as this space is used for bus U-turns.

In addition, while parking is possible in the areas in front or near gates to state forest roads during crowded times, please park so as to ensure plenty of room for official vehicles to pass through the gates. Also, when parking near the trail entrances, please leave enough room for buses to pass.

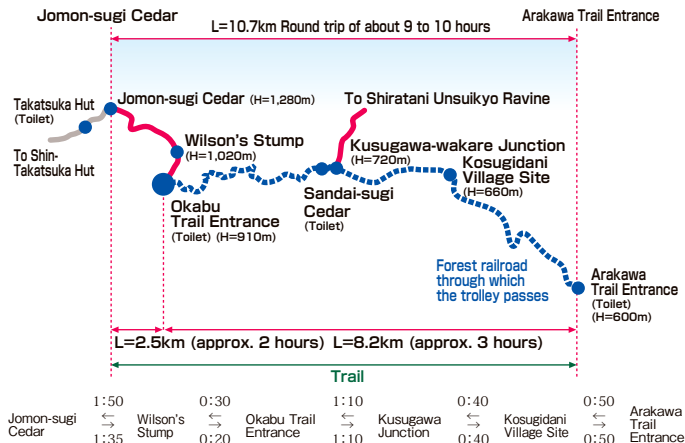

5 Points to Note When Passing Through the Jomon-sugi Trail (Forest Railroad)

A trolley runs between the Arakawa Trail Entrance and the Okabu Trail Entrance, so observe the following when passing through the forest railroad.

- Do not walk side-by-side. (Walk in single file.)
- Take breaks in safe places beside the rails, not on them.
- Move immediately to the rest stops or another safe place when the trolley passes.
- The bridges on the trail are not equipped with handrails, so be careful when crossing them, especially during strong winds.
- Do not damage any of the facilities on the railroad (path).
- People walking at a slow pace must let faster walkers pass to prevent congestion.
- The plates and the ends of the sleepers on the forest railroad get slippery in wet weather or when covered with fallen leaves, causing many people to lose their footing. Please take care.

Jomon-sugi Trail

6 Help Protect the Forest and Other Sites

◆ Help Protect Jomon-sugi Cedar! ◆

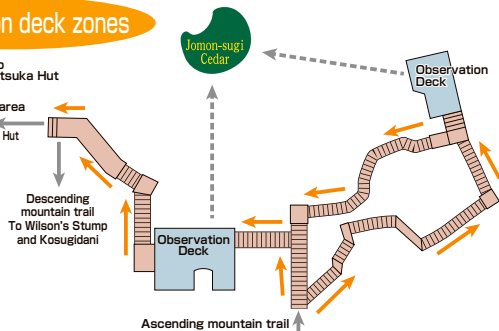

The Jomon-sugi Cedar is several thousand years old and is a symbol of Yakushima. Many climbers have walked around it since it was first opened to the public in 1967, which has resulted in a reduction in soil volume and exposure of its roots. This has led to various protective measures such as placing the surrounding area out of bounds and installing observation decks.

- Do not go beyond the observation decks.
- Overnight camping or pitching of tents on the observation decks is prohibited.
- Avoid eating on the observation decks. Use the nearby rest area or the Takatsuka Hut instead for this purpose.
- Please use the restrooms at the Arakawa Trail Entrance, site of Kosugidani Mountain Cabin Site (near Sandai-sugi Cedar), Okabu Trail Entrance, or Takatsuka Hut.
- Follow the instructions of the staff when using the decks during the Golden Week holiday period and other periods when the area is extremely congested.
- Please take turns using the photo locations.
- Flying drones is not allowed.

Observation deck zones

- 140m to the Takatsuka Hut
- 70m to the rest area

To the Takatsuka Hut and rest area

◆ Help Protect Wilson Stump! ◆

Wilson's Stump is the largest of all tree stumps on Yakushima. In recent years, there have been concerns over the deterioration of its surrounding environment owing to inappropriate use by climbers. Please help us protect Wilson's Stump.

- Do not damage the stump.
- Do not climb on the stump.
- Do not enter no-entry areas.
- Take turns when taking photographs.

7 Observe the Smoking Rules

Smoking areas have been established to prevent bushfires and ensure that everybody can enjoy the spectacular natural environment of Yakushima on the Jomon-sugi Trail from the Arakawa Trail Entrance through to Takatsuka Hut. Please refrain from smoking in any other location.

Smoking Areas

- ① Behind the Arakawa Trail Entrance restroom
- ② Behind the Kosugidani pavilion (Behind the Yakushima Genetic Resource Conservation Forest Monument)
- ③ Behind the Okabu Trail toilet
- ④ Behind the Takatsuka Hut toilet

Please observe the following when smoking in the designated areas.

- 1 Bring your own portable ashtray.
- 2 Make sure you do not start a bushfire.
- 3 Be considerate of other people and the natural environment.

8 Areas with Cellular Reception

There is no cellular reception on the mountains such as the Yodogawa Mountain Trail Entrance.

Areas where cellular reception is available include the Arakawa Trail Entrance, the Jomon-sugi Cedar decks, the peaks of Mt. Miyanoura, Mt. Nagata, Mt. Kuromi, Mt. Kurio, and Mt. Tachu. Please use your cellular only in case of emergencies since undue use may spoil the atmosphere of the natural environment for other climbers.

*You may have no reception at all depending on your cellular model and mobile phone operator. Check this in advance on your operator's website.

11 Yakushima Map

Yakushima is a circular island occupying approximately 130km and playing host to 40 rugged mountains, including Mt. Miyanoura, which is Kyushu's tallest peak (1,936m above sea level). The mountains receive a huge amount of rainfall (said to be around 10,000mm per year), which feeds the countless waterfalls and pure streams as they rush toward their estuaries. The island also allows visitors to observe Jomon-sugi Cedar and other enormous trees that have been standing for several thousand years, as well as plant life that flourishes from subtropical zones to cool temperate zones, turning it into a treasure trove of wildlife and plant life.

*AEDs are also available at other ports, airports, and public institutes, etc.
